> still being held up, and progress is somewhat retarded in this respect. According to Dan Mullet, superintendent of the work, the men are now at work pouring cement at various points along the viaduct route.

> Because of the delay in steel it was necessary to alter the former plan of operations which was to start on the New Castle side of the viaduct with the cement and work across to the Poland end of the approach pouring cement as progress was being made. The present situation, however, makes it necessary for the cement crew to move back and forward from one portion of the viaduct to the other and in this way delay the project some.

> As the span over the P. & L. E. and B. & O. crossing is in place, workmen are now placing the side walk on the girders. The span over the Pennsylvania railroad tracks is also completed and all that remains to be completed is the truss span over the Mahoning river.

When the steel for the truss span begins to arrive, large flood lights will be installed at the project and two shifts of men be put to work. Superintendent Mullet states that the viaduct will be open to traffic long before Christmas.

INAUGURATE NEXT PRESIDENT IN MID-WINTER

January 20 Is Date For Event

Anti-Lame Duck Amendment To U. S. Constitution Now In Effect

SOME COMPLICATIONS ARE CONSIDERED

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Oct. 6-The next president of the United States will, for the first time, be chosen under the new twentieth or "anti-lame-duck amendment to the constitution.

While voters of the nation will flock to the polls on November 3, the president actually will be elected on January 6, when the senate and To Establish Pension System house, in joint session, count the electoral votes. Should the election be thrown into the house because no presidential candidate, as predicted by Father Charles E. Coughlin, wins a majority of the electoral votes, the election may be delayed indefinitely.

toral votes in December following Pension board. the election, but the president was not inaugurated until March 4. Inauguration January 20 Under the new amendment, the president will be inaugurated on January 20, just two weeks after the counting of the ballots. First, if no candidate has a majority of the electoral votes, then the house of representatives chooses the president. The house must choose from the first three highest in the number of electoral votes. Second, if one senator and one representative object to the vote of any state, proceedings are halted and the senate and house vote on the question. The vote must be put after two hours debate. Third, if a president shall not have been chosen by January 20, the vice president acts as president. If he has not qualified, congress may by law determine who shall serve. Under the modern-day system of speedy communication, counting of votes in the electoral college has become a mere formality. Only if objections are made to the vote of a state or if no candidate has a majority, would the question on the presidency become important in congressional deliberations.

Although the next president is expected to be inaugurated on January 20, in the midst of winter, congress before its last adjournment authorized preliminary steps for the usual imposing inauguration ceremonies.

Uneasy Lies Head That Holds A Job At State Capital

Provided The Aforesaid Head Happens To Be On Republican Shoulders

HARRISBURG, Oct. 6-Campaign observers on the capitol scene are shaking their heads in mild wonder at the absence of a general and conclusive "house-cleaning" of Republican jobholders by the Earle administration in advance of the Novem-

Normally slow in clearing the fiscal offices, personnel changes in recent weeks have been trickling though in smaller lots than at virtually any time since Gov. George H. Earle took office in January, 1935. Even these show no signs of the long anticipated "job purge"—the final wiping out of Republicans holding posts in departments directly under the governor's jurisdiction.

In at least one unit of the latter group—the department of highways -a vast majority of the salaried positions are still filled by Republicans appointed under previous administrations, and with the election but a month away, there are no immediate indications that the political axe will fall among these "holdovers."

Some observers contend dismissals on a grand scale are inevitable before election day. The firings would make way for valuable appointments to disgruntled Democrats or loyal members of the party who have not yet been rewarded for political service. By the dismissal procedure they point out, organization would be strengthened for the election without increasing the administrative

Washington May Prove Toughest Game Of Season

"Red Hurricanes" Settle Down To Intensive Drills This Week

New Castle high school "Red Hurricane" goes to Washington, Pa., on Saturday afternoon to try for its fourth class AA conference victory of the year. At the moment this looks like the toughest assignment

The kick-off at two p. m Saturday at the field of the "Little Presidents" will find two highly trained Bobosky schoolboy teams ready for their an nual battle. New Castle and Was ington have met on the gridin for many years and it is always battle royal. On the W. & J. fie where the game will be played, Washington high team is alwa tough to handle.

Are Undefeated

Both New Castle and Washingt are undefeated. Both are conte ders for class AA honors. Then should be plenty of smoke and fire in the game this week. If New Castle gets by this Washington game safely they will be in a fine position to take class AA honors, providing they can upset Midland high or Thanksgiving Day here.

The New Castle team, outside of Dommy DeCaprio, is in fair shape for the game this week. DeCapri is still nursing his injured neck. H will not see much action this week Head Coach Phil Bridenbaugh sav ing him for Saturday. No scrimmage for DeCaprio this week shoul give the injured neck a rest.

Covelli Injured

Leroy Cox, the colored speedste is all set for a comeback this week after a layoff of a couple of week with a bad ankle. Charles "Stormy Mort and Dudy Perrett formed pleasing combination at the half back posts last week and will probably be teamed up again this wee at Washington.

Dom Covelli is nursing a bruise shoulder and may not get in th game this week. Dumbroski, Frase and McCormick are battling for th post if Covelli is not in shape t play. Nocera got bumped aroun quite considerable in the Beaver Falls game, but will be back in there fighting this week.

Giants Win

Hal Schumacher Fans Ten In Great Comeback Game

TERRY DRIVES IN WINNING RUN

By DAVIS J. WALSH International News Service Sports Editor

YANKEE STADIUM, New York, Oct. 6.—Rallying from the edge of the grave, the New York Giants 141 pulled out a 5 to 4 decision Mon--- day in ten innings over the New 3.728 York Yankees in the fifth game of the world series, Hal Schumacher 192 richly earning the reward.

127 He fanned ten of the Yankees and would have won easily except for 132 a lot of poor fielding behind him. 112 As it was the Giants were able 143 to stave off the Yankees and carry -- the series into a sixth game just 706 when it seemed probable that the Yanks must close out the series and 120 win the world's championship by 143 four games to one.

Big First Inning

The Yanks outhit the Giants but 152 never succeeded in overcoming the after effects of a wild first inning 685 in which the Giants pumelled Charles Ruffing for five hits and 135 three runs before he fairly warmed

The Yanks could have won in nine 150 innings except for Gehrig's wire-134 haired base running in the second inning. He opened with a single to 694 right and went to third when Ott let the ball get through him all the 112 way to the fence. Dickey then hit into the dirt down the first base 148 line and Gehrig should have scored 132 standing up. Instead he waited 111 until the play was made at first and then broke for the plate and was 129 doubled up a mile on Terry's throw

Dumb Base Running

As it turned out Gehrig could 140 home run into the runway between the stands in right field. That was 163 the only run really earned off Schu-181 macher. He walked Lazzeri and -- Ruffing to start the third and ad-816 vanced both on a wild pitch. Giant-Yankee world series box fifth game)
